The Basic Principles of Risk Management and Insurance Seminar: Insurance “101” for State Legislators

The History of Health Insurance in the U.S. from 1847 to 2009 Workshop

Presented by:
The NCOIL Institute for Insurance Policy and
The Griffith Insurance Education Foundation

The NCOIL Institute for Insurance Policy is offering, FREE-OF-CHARGE, a one day “Basic Principles” seminar on Wednesday, November 18, 2009 and a “History of Health Insurance in the U.S. from 1847 to 2009” luncheon workshop on November 19, 2009 at the NCOIL Annual Meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana. These programs are for legislators only and are limited to the first 35 qualified registrants.

[Note: By attending the seminar, contributing member state legislators will earn six credits toward a NCOIL Institute for Insurance Policy Certificate of Distinction in Insurance Policy. (Please note: Those legislators who have attended the Griffith Foundation’s Insurance Committee Chair Seminar within the last five years have already received the six credits for attending this program and are encouraged to recommend another qualified legislator for this seminar.) The workshop is one credit.]

Free-of-Charge: Seminar and Workshop

This program is being underwritten by the Griffith Insurance Education Foundation and includes one night’s lodging (Tuesday night) at The Royal Sonesta Hotel. Breakfast and lunch will also be provided during the seminar. For those attending the NCOIL Annual Meeting, Thursday’s lunch will be provided during the “History of Health Insurance in the U.S. from 1847 to 2009” Workshop.

The Basic Principles of Risk Management and Insurance Seminar: Insurance “101” for State Legislators

Two prominent professors of Risk Management and Insurance will conduct the “Basic Principles” seminar - Dr. James M. Carson, Midyette Eminent Scholar Chair of Risk and Insurance, Florida State University and Dr. David W. Sommer, Professor and Charles E. Cheever Chair of Risk Management, St. Mary’s University.

The “Insurance 101 for State Legislators” seminar provides the six core course credits required for NCOIL certification. The six one-hour sessions include:

- Risk Management Concepts and the Principles of Insurance
- Mortality & Longevity Risks: Life Insurance, Annuities, and Long-Term Care
- Property and Liability Risks: Protecting Our Assets
- Employee Benefits & Health Care Risks: Protecting Our Future
- The Business of Insurance: How Insurance Companies and Markets Work
- Risk Management & Public Policy: The Role of Legislation and Regulation in Risk Management and Insurance

“The History of Health Insurance in the U.S. from 1847 to 2009” Luncheon Workshop

In addition to the “Basic Principles” seminar, the Annual Meeting also includes a luncheon workshop on “The History of Health Insurance in the U.S. from 1847 to 2009.” The program will be conducted by Dr. Norma L. Nielson, Chairholder in Insurance and Risk Management, Haskayne School of Business, University of Calgary.
